

Terms & Conditions:

By placing an order and/or the submission of any sample to Kennebec Analytical Services (KAS) and Cannabis Testing Laboratories (CTL) for the requested testing or other services will, upon acceptance of such sample by KAS/CTL for such services, constitute an express Contract to which these Terms and Conditions apply. All orders are subject to KAS/CTL approval and acceptance. KAS/CTL does not distribute invoices. Therefore, full payment must be received before KAS/CTL will complete any work on submitted samples. Any and all samples which are received in unsatisfactory condition, or which have not been clearly identified will not be tested. KAS/CTL will communicate with submitting persons of any samples or products that are unusable. KAS/CTL reserves the right to accept or reject any order. Testing samples (including residuals) will not be returned and will be destroyed and/or disposed of in accordance with KAS/CTL SOPs.

KAS/CTL will have the unrestricted right to use for its own purposes, including publication, any data or information that it may develop in connection with or as a results of performing the services described, as long as the data published or otherwise shared with third parties by KAS/CTL is aggregated data in such a manner that the Client and the sources of the samples tested for the Client will remain anonymous. For the sharing/submission of State required results to the appropriate state program and USDA, written permission from the Client will be obtained prior to the sharing of these results.
